OVERWORK INDUCED Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless today had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HISSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

THE GREAT NORTHERN PEOPLE REFUSED TO FURNISH A TRAIN FOR THEIR EMPLOYEES AT LESS THAN HALF FARE, AND A PICNIC AND AN OUTING PLANNED FROM ST. CLOUD TO ALEXANDRIA HAD TO BE ABANDONED.

A PLAN has been devised in Massachusetts of establishing a farm of 2,000 acres where tramps and vagrants will be sent and put through a two years' course of agricultural training. The knights of the road will not be other Massachusetts much after the plan becomes operative.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman is very much worked up on account of a mistake in crediting an article clipped from its columns, which was published in the Dispatch two weeks ago. If the Lumberman will only take as much pains in giving proper credit to the Northern Minnesota papers, from which it gets much of its news, as it would have others do, the unkind remarks of its editor will be forgiven.

A SLICK swindle was exposed in Perham one day last week says the Bulletin. A young fellow was making a tour of the residence, offering for sale a needle threader. Incidentally, he took from his pocket a pair of spectacles, encased in what looked like a pair of gold bows. He explained that he had found the glasses in the depot at Grand Forks, and had advertised for the owner, paying seventy cents therefor. He said he was a little hard up now and would sell for $2.00. He held several pairs of this way from 50 cents up to $1.00. Finally Marshall Strengens got hold of him, suspecting that they had been stolen. To prove his innocence he exhibited a bill from a Chicago house showing that he had bought six dozen, paying therefor 20 cents a pair. He was run out of town.

The Journal says the DISPATCH expressed a fear that the silver mine owners would double the price of silver very free coinage. The DISPATCH never expressed any such fear. It is a falsehood, pure and simple, and is the only kind of argument the Journal uses in discussing the question. The DISPATCH mentioned the well known fact that a combination of mine owners had cornered one hundred million dollars' worth of silver on which they expected to double their money if free coinage could be secured. In other words their efforts for free coinage is a mammoth scheme for a chance to speculate and enrich themselves by a temporary rise in silver which they expect and which will probably follow free coinage, just as a temporary rise followed the passage of the Sherman act. The rise would only be temporary, but it would be long enough to allow these gamblers to unload with enormous gains.

A Pure Baking Powder.

A baking powder that can be depended upon to be free from lime and alum is a desideratum in these days of adulterated food. So far as can be judged from the official reports, the "Royal" seems to be the only one yet found by chemical analyses to be entirely without one or the other of these substances, and absolutely pure. This, it is shown, results from the exclusive use by its manufacturers of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal," the manufacturers of which control the patents under which it is refined.

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U. S. Government, who made the analyses for the New York State Board of Health in their investigation of baking powders, and whose intimate knowledge of the ingredients of all those sold in this market enables him to speak authoritatively, says of the purity, wholesomeness and superior quality of the "Royal."

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates or other injurious substance."

Prof. Love's tests, and the recent official tests by both the United States and Canada Governments, show the Royal Baking Powder to be superior to all others in strength and leavening power. It is not only the most economical in use, but makes the purest, finest flavored and most wholesome food.

WE WIN TWO OUT OF THREE.

The Brainerd Team Breaks Even With Duluth, Losing the First Game and Winning the Second.

Frank Howe Pitches a Phenomenal Game of Ball, Striking Out Nine Men in Five Innings.

The Brainerd base ball club celebrated the glorious fourth by shutting out the crack "Our Minnie" team of Minneapolis, who represent the confectionery establishment of McKusick-Copelin Co., in a very pretty game by a score of 3 to 0. The game was stopped at the beginning of the sixth inning by a heavy rain storm. Frank Howe, who returned Wednesday from Chicago, was in the box for Brainerd, and pitched the most phenomenal game of ball ever witnessed in this city, and making a record that was never equalled in the state, striking out nine of the fifteen men that came to bat, and having three assists to his credit. He never allowed a man to reach second base, and only three got as far as first. Only three balls went outside the diamond and they were quickly taken in by the fielders, and the visitors scored two runs in the first inning on errors and one in the fourth on a pass ball. Theilman made the first hit of the game by landing a pretty single in the left fielder's territory, and Capt. Burquin also made a very neat single, but was caught at second in trying to make it a two-bagger. Halloran was rather wild in the first two innings, but soon got down to work and pitched a splendid game, only three safe hits being made off his speedy delivery. The visitors demonstrated that they were first-class ball players, especially Morris, who covers the left field territory, by making one of the prettiest running catches of a hot liner from Carroll's bat that looked good for a safe hit, and he was loudly cheered. B. Bush, in center field, also made a couple clever catches. The 1000 people present declare that it was the shortest and best game of the season. The teams are playing a series of three games, best two out of three, for $150 a side. Another game will be played tomorrow (Saturday), and the last game on Sunday. The "fans" should avail themselves of the opportunity now to see the best ball game of the season. Howe and McCarthy occupied the points for Brainerd, and Charles caught a remarkable good game, handling Howe's speedy curves in a very clever manner. Halloran and Page was the battery for the visitors. Following is the score by innings and the summary:

Base hits, Brainerd 3. "Our Minnie" 2; base on balls, off Halloran 1; left on bases, Brainerd 4, "Our Minnie" 2; hit by pitched balls, by Halloran 1; passed balls, by Page 2; struck out, by Howe 9; by Halloran 2; time of game, 47 minutes; umpire, Canan.

BRAINERD VS. DULUTH.

The Brainerd base ball club, accompanied by several admirers, went to Duluth last Saturday morning to play two games with the team of that city. Duluth won the first by a score of 5 to 4, in one of the prettiest games ever witnessed on the diamond in the Zenith City. Brainerd had the lead up to the last half of the ninth, when Willner sent two men to base on balls, and then Girard, who covers second base for Duluth, knocked out a pretty two-bagger, scoring two men and winning the game. Willner pitched a splendid and received good support. The Duluth boys only secured five hits during the game and Brainerd nine. Brainerd made two errors and Duluth four. Theilman, our clever little left fielder, who never caught a game, was behind the bat, in place of Chas. McCarthy, who was unable to accompany the team, and put up a good game. Following is the score and summary:

Brainerd.....2 0 2 0 0 0 0-4
Duluth.....0 0 0 2 1 0 0-5

Earned runs, Brainerd 1, Duluth 1; base hits, Brainerd 9, Duluth 5; two base hits, Girard 2, Fitch and Carroll; struck out, by Willner 6, by Krelwitz 4; base on balls, off Willner 4, off Krelwitz 3; passed balls, by Theilman 6, by Connors 2; left on bases, Brainerd 9, Duluth 6; time, 1:35; umpire, Mr. Holling, of Duluth.

THE BEGINNING OF TAMMANY.

Tammany was the heir of the spirit of the Sons of Liberty of the Revolutionary war. It was kin in some of its purposes at least to those who were then beginning the revolution. Indeed a misty legend to generation in the Hall that the suggestion came from Jefferson himself, who, called from France to Washington's cabinet, was pained to see that aristocracy, English in its impulse and fostered by the Society of the Cincinnati, was rooting itself so early in our national life. To crush that impulse, at least to fetter it, Jefferson gave the hint, and Tammany with its tomahawk stood facing the Cincinnati and its sword.

William Mooney, an upholsterer, but, like many of the mechanics of that day, keenly interested in politics, suggested that there be brought together in an association those who dreaded the aristocracy, and who suspected that the purpose of Hamilton was to force the government into something like a limited monarchy. Mooney found a good many mechanics and merchants who thought as he did, and so a common purpose, the grouping impulse rather than any cunning planning of one man for personal advancement, brought some of the ablest political and personal foes of Hamilton and Jay together, and with some mystery of oaths and ritual, the pipe of peace, the feathered headdress, even the painted face and leathern costume, were worn by its members, these men were bound in one association as the Tammany society, or Columbian order.—E. J. Edwards in McClure's Magazine.

Earned runs, Brainerd 21, Duluth 6; base hits, Brainerd 30, Duluth 9; two base hits, W. McCarthy, Carroll 3; Wilner 2, Hogan, Paine and Girard; three base hits, W. McCarthy and Springer; home runs, Hogan; passed balls, Theilman 3, Connors 4; base on balls, Brainerd 6, Duluth 3; left on bases, Brainerd 6, Duluth 11; double plays, Brainerd 1, Duluth 1; time, 2:20; umpire, Holling.

CURFEW ORDINANCE TO BE TRIED.

The City Council Does Business With a Vim—Police Force to Be Reduced.

The city council met on Monday evening with all members present excepting Ald. Bartlett.

The reports of the clerk and street commissioner were read and accepted. On motion the pay roll of the city employees amounting to $724.13 was allowed, excepting the salary of police officers Derocher and Quinn, the matter of their pay being referred to the mayor, and the clerk was instructed to issue a warrant to them upon his approval. The following bills were audited:

Pay roll, street.....$255 13
City electric lights.....250 00
Board of equalization.....45 00
Tribune, publishing.....56 92
Oliver Burnett, poundmaster.....15 75
D. Sherman, feeding stock.....11 90
G. H. Stratton, veterinary police.....30 00
A. G. Trommler, city assessor.....100 00
W. S. McClellan, expenses.....38 35
Davis, Kellogg & Severance, retainer fee.....350 00
C. M. Patek, supplies.....13 83
M. K. Swartz, supplies.....9 65
Lyman Arms, surveyor.....10 00
Slipp Bros., supplies.....25 00
S. H. Parker, coat fees.....35 78
Cost. Elec. Co., supplies.....50 60
Elec. Eng. Co., supplies.....31 68

Several other bills of a lesser amount were also audited. The matter of repairing Norwood street in southeast Brainerd was referred to the street committee.

A motion was made and carried that the mayor be requested to reduce the police force by one man, and that Officer Quinn be the one to be laid off. The chief of police was instructed to notify the owners of vacant lots to cut down the thistles and weeds on their property and the street commissioner be instructed to clear the streets and alleys of the same.

The report of the special committee appointed to investigate the standing of the electric light plant, recommending that it be not disposed of was read, and on motion the report was laid on the table.

The council then went into executive session, after which, on motion, the chair appointed Ald. Adair, Reinthal and McMaster, as a committee to wait upon Wm. M. Dressell, and request him to devote his whole time to the electric light plant or send in his resignation.

A motion was made and carried that the report of the special committee appointed to confer with the committee from the board of trade in regard to the water works, and recommending that no more hydrant rental be paid until good water is furnished be adopted.

Ald. J. S. Gardner, Peterson and Reinthal were appointed a committee to investigate the business done by the dog catcher.

Liquor licenses were granted to John S. Frey, L. W. Chase, Wilson & Gloor, Nelson & Peterson, J. M. Gray, Geo. E. Gardner, Parsons & Swanson, Louis Burno, J. C. Jaimeson and Jerome Kelleher.

G. J. Britton was granted a dry license, and the Kickapoo Medicine Co. was granted a two weeks license. The resolution approving the plat of Willis addition was adopted.

The city attorney was instructed to draw an ordinance in compliance with the curfew law and the council adjourned.

ODD RUSSIAN CUSTOMS.

Some of the queer ways of catching thieves in the rural districts.

There is but little demand for detectives in some parts of Russia. Not that the citizens in those parts are specially noted for the observance of the cardinal commandments. The Russian peasant has many excellent characteristics. He is muscular, harden, courageous, willing to obey; he can stand all the hardships of climate and labor and the greatest deprivations; he is also naturally kind hearted, hospitable and readily contented with the coarsest food and the plainest log hut.

But there is also a dark side to his character. He will indulge from time to time in short spectacles which he exhibits uncontrollably thirst, sensuality and an insatiable thirst for spirituous liquors. And these moral defects are crowned with the deepest ignorance and superstition.

In some of the rural districts the latter forms part of the life of the people. They will give greater credence to the divinations of the clairvoyant and the ridiculous traditions of his locality than to sensible deliberation or the results of experience.

In his farm labors of seedtime and harvest, of plowing and hay cutting and other tasks, he is not ruled by the nature of the soil or climate conditions, but follows certain days of his church calendar. He never commences an important job on an unlucky day, and there are a great many unlucky days in the Russian almanacs.

The belief in sorcerers and witches is still in full bloom there. Incautiousness or sickness with man or beast is not infrequently known but one oracle—the wise old matriarch of the town, who is accredited with supernatural gifts. He ascribes even to himself and his family a certain magic power acquired by a strict observance of ancient customs and ceremonies.

Most original are the means he employs to catch a thief suspected of belonging to the family circle. If anything has been stolen which conveys the thought of a masculine thief, he looks all the male members of his household—relatives and hired help—in a dark room. A hen is ducked in a tub of black soot, turned loose in the dark room, and the door is kept locked for a quarter of an hour or more.

The farmers believe positively that the hen will take refuge with the innocent, but will avoid the guilty ones. Suddenly the old farmer enters with a large torch, and woe to the unfortunate individual whose pantaloons are not besmeared with soot. He is undoubtedly the thief, and if he cannot restore the stolen property he will be compelled to refund its value.

In other cases the loser of articles of clothing or jewelry balances a flour sieve on his index finger, and while doing so he pronounces the names of his acquaintances. If the sieve trembles at the pronouncement of any name, its owner is pronounced the culprit.

Still another method is employed for the apprehension of thieves. A bowl is filled to the brim with water. The names of the members of the family and acquaintances are written on small slips of paper. These are rolled up and thrown on the water's surface. The paper bits that remain within the bowl contain the names of the thieves, or at least of those having a guilty knowledge of the theft.—Exchange.

Older in Etymology and Hygiene.

Mr. Labouchere has been advising people to drink cider, or "cyder," apparently under the impression that it is impossible to get drunk on it, which proves that Mr. Labouchere does not know his Normandy.

It is not an easy job we admit, but it is one not infrequently accomplished by Norman peasants. And now Sir George Birdwood makes an almost pious appeal to us to spell the beverage with a "y." He traced the history of the word from the Hebrew shekar through Greek and Latin down to the French cirde.

Then came in some one who asked who brought the "y" as dowry. And Phillips, the poet, "forever fixed the correct English form for all makers and drinkers of the beverage and for all literary men as cyder." Who are we to gainsay Phillips, the poet? So in deference to Phillips and to please Sir George Birdwood we will spell it "cyder," but we won't promise to drink it, or even to gratify Mr. Labouchere.—Pall Mall Gazette.

An Ingenious Watch Thief.

A Parisian watchmaker has been the victim in worth describing in order that English watchmakers may be put on their guard against similar attempts. The watchmaker in question has a shop in the Rue de la Rochefoucauld, near the Eglise de la Trinite. While he was out on business a stranger came in. The watchmaker's wife was behind the counter. The stranger pretended to be very angry and told her that her husband had promised to repair his watch and let him have it back by a certain date, but he had failed to do so. "There it is," said the man, pointing to a handsome gold chronometer. "I shall not leave it here any longer, but shall take it somewhere else."

With this he took the watch and hurried out of the shop. When the watchmaker returned, his wife upbraided him for having kept the chronometer so long. An explanation followed, however, and it became clear that the intruder was simply a clever thief.—London News.

WASHINGTON'S PARENTS.

His Father a Maker of Big Iron and His Mother a Second Wife.

George Washington was born in Westmoreland county, Va., on Feb. 22, 1732, according to the generally accepted style of reckoning time which has prevailed since 1752, or, according to the old style, on Feb. 11, 1731-32. His mother, Mary Ball, was the second wife of his father, Augustine Washington, concerning both of whom a great deal of false history has been written, while much that might have been truthfully said of Augustine Washington has been left unsaid by Marshall, Sparks, Irving and other biographers of George Washington.

Augustine Washington has been represented as a man of almost royal blood, as the aristocratic descendant of a titled English family. Be this as it may, Augustine Washington, at the time he married Mary Ball was engaged in making pig iron at Accokeek furnace in Stafford county, Va., about 15 miles from Fredericksburg, and he was so engaged when his son George was born, although he was then residing at Wakefield, in Westmoreland county. Accokeek furnace had been built by the Principio company, composed of English capitalists, as early as 1726 on land owned by Augustine Washington covering about 1,600 acres and containing iron ore, Augustine Washington, who was known as Captain Washington, becoming the owner of one-sixth of the furnace property in consideration of the transfer of his land to the company. The Principio company had other iron enterprises in Maryland.

Captain Washington visited England in 1729 and 1730, chiefly in relation to the management of Accokeek furnace. Returning to Virginia in May, 1730, he wrote to his English partners on the 10th day of July that on his arrival he found to his great grief that his wife was dead. There is an autograph letter in the custody of the Maryland Historical society written at London on Oct. 2, 1730 by John Wightwick, one of the English stockholders in the Principio company, and addressed to John England, the company's general agent in Maryland and Virginia, which preserves the above facts, and which also severely criticizes Captain Washington for neglecting in his letter of July 10 to inform his English associates whether or not he would stick to a certain bargain he had made with them concerning the management of the furnace.

We have been unable to discover whether Captain Washington kept his bargain to manage Accokeek furnace or not, but in Colonel William Byrd's "Progress of the Mines," written in 1732, he mentions "England's iron mines, called so from the chief manager of them, though the land belongs to Mr. Washington." Two miles distant from the mines was the furnace.

Colonel Byrd says: "Mr. Washington raises the ore and carts it thither for 20 shillings the ton of iron that it yields. Besides Mr. Washington and Mr. England there are several other persons in England concerned in these works." Augustine Washington retained his interest in the Principio company to the time of his death in 1743, and this interest he bequeathed to his son Lawrence.

In 1731 Augustine Washington married for his second wife Mary Ball, a daughter of Joseph Ball, who resided in Lancaster county, Va., where Mary Ball was born. Captain Washington did not marry Mary Ball in England, as Benson J. Lossing and numerous other inaccurate writers have stated, but after his visit to that country, during which, as has been shown, his first wife died.—Iron and Steel Bulletin.

The Kaiser cries "Peace, peace!" but the French press says, "There is no peace." Nevertheless, Europe's political sky is very free from clouds at this moment.

Zola is coming to write his impressions of American cities. They will probably be the usual budget of misconceptions, but powerfully done in a literary sense.

The number of blacksmiths in this country when the tenth census was taken, was 172,726 under this designation being comprised not only those who shod horses, but a great variety of machinists who classed themselves among the knights of the forge.

The English authorities have begun the work of cutting the new dock at Gibraltar. Some 700 men are employed. When completed it will be capable of holding the largest British warship.

In the states south of the Mason and Dixon's line, according to the tenth census, the persons engaged in agriculture consisted more than one-third of the total number of wage earners. The same statement is true of the Northwestern agricultural states.

Gladstone, even at his advanced age, will make a better working success in the premiership than any younger man that could be selected. Roosevelt's administration has been a colorless failure.

Russia retains consular representatives in 231 foreign ports and in 98 interior towns and cities abroad. The service includes 33 consul generals, 78 consuls, 213 vice consuls and 45 consular agents. Of this total personnel 112 are Russians and 290 foreigners.

Coffee planting promises to be the great industry of British Central Africa. The export of coffee in 1893, about 55,000 pounds, was nearly double that in 1892, that of 1894 was nearly double that of 1893 and 1895 "can now be definitely expected to double that of 1894."

The grateful Armenians have presented Mr. Gladstone with the most beautiful illuminated manuscript of the Gospels to be found in England. In the whole of his career the grand old man never felt so much like going to war as at the present time, and as a theologian at that.

Seventy members of Yale's graduating class will study law, nineteen medicine, fifteen theology and twenty others will enter business. The figures indicate that people are likely to become more healthy rather than more wealthy and wise. Fifteen doctors and twenty lawyers is at least physically reassuring.

Some of the inhabitants of Gettysburg are opposed to the extension of the national park there, as they think the removal of the farmers will injure the trade of the place. The town has a population of only 3,200 and it might be a good idea to buy it as an industrial feature of the scene of the great battle.

If the Battenberg princess who has just made a flying trip across the country writes up his impressions he will probably have something to say about young America. Just before he sailed he consented to review a Sunday school procession in Brooklyn, and discovered that it meant waiting until 3,000 children marched by.

Russia will make a commission of $800,000 by negotiating China's $80,000 loan in France and French investors for their money. Germany was admitted to a ground floor in building Japan, but is excluded from the financial transaction. The next time Germany dines in such company she should provide herself with a longer spoon.

President Faure is taking an active interest in the proposed ship canal to connect the Atlantic and Mediterranean, with terminal points at Bordeaux and Narbonne. This would convert Spain into an island and open up an outlet to the importance of Gibraltar. The canal would be 320 miles long and would cost $15,000,000, but its commercial revenue would be very large.

Many people pass through the busy streets of Boston without knowing that John Hancock is buried where the rear of traffic is heard and thousands are constantly coming and going. The grave of the signer of the Declaration of Independence is in the Granary burying ground, and the state will soon mark it with a monument and pedestal twenty-three feet high. The simple shaft will stand hereafter as the most notable thing in that part of Boston.

The Burlington road is victimized through horse tickets. Illinois has taken the lead among the states in adopting the Torrens system of land transfer. It is a quick, easy and safe way of making a quick sale, with as easy change of ownership as a certificate of stock. Any person may present his abstract and other evidence of title to the recorder and obtain a certificate of ownership, a duplicate thereof being placed on record; and at each subsequent sale the existing certificate will be surrendered through horse tickets.

Contraband Arms.

Munitions of War Intended for Cuba.

New York, July 4.—A passenger who arrived on the steamship Finance reported a large seizure of arms on the island of Trinidad. The Venezuelan consul at Trinidad, a British island in the West Indies, learned that the cargo of a British steamer, the Venetia, had been seized by the Venezuelan insurgents. He immediately notified the island government, and an investigation was started. It was ascertained that the arms were intended for the insurgents in Cuba. The master declared, however, that his cargo must not be molested, as it was in transit. He said he had no intention of landing the munitions in Trinidad, and on this statement the British consul at Trinidad, it is intimated that the arms were intended for the expedition led by the seagoing tug George. The cargo was transferred to her, and they were transferred to her.

Divorce Industry.

A Reduction of Forty-two Days in the Time Needed to Get an Ante.

Siox Falls, S. D., July 4.—On July 1st the law went into effect in South Dakota which cuts forty-two days from the time needed to obtain divorce in this state, and which is expected to result in a large number of divorces. The law touching service of summons was changed by the last legislature making a default judgment in cases where the summons was not served within the time specified. The old law allowed seventy-two days for default on outside summons. The new law cuts it down to thirty days. The law was not passed because of its bearing on the divorce industry, a litigation which has become a great source of revenue to the state. It is now expected that the law will result in a large number of divorces.

Munitions of War Intended for Cuba.

New York, July 4.—A passenger who arrived on the steamship Finance reported a large seizure of arms on the island of Trinidad. The Venezuelan consul at Trinidad, a British island in the West Indies, learned that the cargo of a British steamer, the Venetia, had been seized by the Venezuelan insurgents. He immediately notified the island government, and an investigation was started. It was ascertained that the arms were intended for the insurgents in Cuba. The master declared, however, that his cargo must not be molested, as it was in transit. He said he had no intention of landing the munitions in Trinidad, and on this statement the British consul at Trinidad, it is intimated that the arms were intended for the expedition led by the seagoing tug George. The cargo was transferred to her, and they were transferred to her.

Divorce Industry.

A Reduction of Forty-two Days in the Time Needed to Get an Ante.

Siox Falls, S. The Kaiser cries "Peace, peace!" but the French press says, "There is no peace!" Nevertheless, Europe's political sky is very free from clouds at this moment.

Zola is coming to write his impressions of American cities. They will probably be the usual budget of misapprehensions, but powerfully done in a literary sense.

The number of blacksmiths in this country who work in the iron and steel industry was taken, was 172,726 under this designation being comprised not only those who shoe horses, but a great variety of mechanics who classed themselves among the knights of the forge.

The English authorities have begun the work of cutting the new dock at Cardiff. Some 700 men are employed. When completed it will be capable of holding the largest British warship.

In the states south of the Mason and Dixon's line, according to the fourth census, the persons engaged in agriculture constituted more than half of the total number of wage earners. The same statement is true of the Northwestern agricultural states.

Gladstone, even at his advanced age, can make a better working success in the premiership than any younger man that could be selected. Roseberry's administration has been a colorless failure.

Russia retains consular representatives in 261 foreign ports and in 98 interior towns and cities abroad. The service includes 33 consul generals, 78 consuls, 213 vice consuls and 45 consular agents. Of this total personnel 112 are Russians and 290 foreigners.

Coffee planting promises to be the great industry of British Central Africa. The export of coffee in 1880, about 55,000 pounds, was nearly double that in 1882, that of 1891 was nearly double that of 1880 and that of 1894.

The grateful Armenians have presented Mr. Gladstone with the most beautiful illuminated manuscript of the Gospels to be found in England. In the whole of his career the grand old man never felt so proud before he turned as at the present time, and as a theologian at that.

Seventy members of Yale's graduating class will study law, nineteen medicine, fifteen theology and twenty-four will go into business. The figures indicate that people are likely to become more healthy rather than more wealthy and wise. Fifteen doctors to seventy lawyers is not at all physically reassuring.

Some of the inhabitants of Gettysburg are opposed to the extension of the national park there, as they think the removal of the farmers will injure the trade of the place. The town has a population of only 3,200 and it might be a good idea to buy it as an accidental feature of the scene of the great battle.

If the Hattenburg princess who has just made a flying trip across the country writes up his impressions he will probably have something to say about the American people. Just before he sailed he consented to review a Sunday school procession in Brooklyn, and discovered that it meant waiting until 10,000 children marched by.

Russia will make a commission of $500,000 by negotiating China's $80,000,000 loan in France and French investors will receive a good rate of interest for their money. Germany was admitted to the ground for in building Japan, but is excluded from the financial transaction. The next time Germany dines in such company she should provide herself with a longer spoon.

President Faure is taking an active interest in the proposed ship canal to connect the Atlantic and Mediterranean, with terminal points at Bordeaux and Narbonne. This would connect Spain into an island and put an end to the importance of Gibraltar as a base. The canal would be 220 miles long and would cost $115,000,000, but its commercial revenue would be very large.

Many people pass through the busy streets of Boston without knowing that John Hancock is buried where the rear of traffic is heard and thousands are constantly coming and going. The grave of the man who people think is the famous signature on the Declaration is in the Granary burying ground, and the state will soon mark it with a monument and pedestal twenty-three feet high. The simple staff will stand hereafter as the most notable thing in that part of Boston.

Illinois has taken the lead among the states in making the Torrens system of land transfers under a record, and each subsequent sale of the land estate can be made a quick asset, with as easy change of ownership as a certificate of stock. Any person may present his abstract and other evidence of title to the recorder and obtain a certificate of ownership, a duplicate thereof being placed on record, and at each subsequent sale the duplicate certificate will be surrendered and another issued to the new owner. It is optional with the counties to adopt the system, and also with individuals to bring their land within its operation.

Perhaps no better method of comparing the municipal administration of various cities is to be had than in the comparison of some single item of revenue where the cost of production is more or less a constant quantity. In this connection the prices paid for 2,000 candle-power are lights for all night service per annum is extremely interesting. In St. Louis, for instance, each light costs the city $74.66 per annum; New York pays from $84 to $182; Washington, $219; Brooklyn, $182; Philadelphia, $177; Boston, $237; and San Francisco pays the round little sum of $40. Cost is, of course, expensive on the Pacific coast, but, nevertheless, it looks as if a Lexow investigation would save the citizens at the Golden Gate something in taxes.

The town has a population of only 3,200 and it might be a good idea to buy it as an accidental feature of the scene of the great battle.

If the Hattenburg princess who has just made a flying trip across the country writes up his impressions he will probably have something to say about the American people. Just before he sailed he consented to review a Sunday school procession in Brooklyn, and discovered that it meant waiting until 10,000 children marched by.

Russia will make a commission of $500,000 by negotiating China's $80,000,000 loan in France and French investors will receive a good rate of interest for their money. Germany was admitted to the ground for in building Japan, but is excluded from the financial transaction. The next time Germany dines in such company she should provide herself with a longer spoon.

President Faure is taking an active interest in the proposed ship canal to connect the Atlantic and Mediterranean, with terminal points at Bordeaux and Narbonne. This would connect Spain into an island and put an end to the importance of Gibraltar as a base. The canal would be 220 miles long and would cost $115,000,000, but its commercial revenue would be very large.

Many people pass through the busy streets of Boston without knowing that John Hancock is buried where the rear of traffic is heard and thousands are constantly coming and going. The grave of the man who people think is the famous signature on the Declaration is in the Granary burying ground, and the state will soon mark it with a monument and pedestal twenty-three feet high. The simple staff will stand hereafter as the most notable thing in that part of Boston.

Illinois has taken the lead among the states in making the Torrens system of land transfers under a record, and each subsequent sale of the land estate can be made a quick asset, with as easy change of ownership as a certificate of stock. Any person may present his abstract and other evidence of title to the recorder and obtain a certificate of ownership, a duplicate thereof being placed on record, and at each subsequent sale the duplicate certificate will be surrendered and another issued to the new owner. It is optional with the counties to adopt the system, and also with individuals to bring their land within its operation.

Perhaps no better method of comparing the municipal administration of various cities is to be had than in the comparison of some single item of revenue where the cost of production is more or less a constant quantity. In this connection the prices paid for 2,000 candle-power are lights for all night service per annum is extremely interesting. In St. Louis, for instance, each light costs the city $74.66 per annum; New York pays from $84 to $182; Washington, $219; Brooklyn, $182; Philadelphia, $177; Boston, $237; and San Francisco pays the round little sum of $40. Cost is, of course, expensive on the Pacific coast, but, nevertheless, it looks as if a Lexow investigation would save the citizens at the Golden Gate something in taxes.

The Kaiser cries "Peace, peace!" but the French press says, "There is no peace!" Nevertheless, Europe's political sky is very free from clouds at this moment.

Zola is coming to write his impressions of American cities. They will probably be the usual budget of misapprehensions, but powerfully done in a literary sense.

The number of blacksmiths in this country who work in the iron and steel industry was taken, was 172,726 under this designation being comprised not only those who shoe horses, but a great variety of mechanics who classed themselves among the knights of the forge.

The English authorities have begun the work of cutting the new dock at Cardiff. Some 700 men are employed. When completed it will be capable of holding the largest British warship.

In the states south of the Mason and Dixon's line, according to the fourth census, the persons engaged in agriculture constituted more than half of the total number of wage earners. The same statement is true of the Northwestern agricultural states.

Gladstone, even at his advanced age, can make a better working success in the premiership than any younger man that could be selected. Roseberry's administration has been a colorless failure.

Russia retains consular representatives in 261 foreign ports and in 98 interior towns and cities abroad. The service includes 33 consul generals, 78 consuls, 213 vice consuls and 45 consular agents. Of this total personnel 112 are Russians and 290 foreigners.

Coffee planting promises to be the great industry of British Central Africa. The export of coffee in 1880, about 55,000 pounds, was nearly double that in 1882, that of 1891 was nearly double that of 1880 and that of 1894.

The grateful Armenians have presented Mr. Gladstone with the most beautiful illuminated manuscript of the Gospels to be found in England. In the whole of his career the grand old man never felt so proud before he turned as at the present time, and as a theologian at that.

Seventy members of Yale's graduating class will study law, nineteen medicine, fifteen theology and twenty-four will go into business. The figures indicate that people are likely to become more healthy rather than more wealthy and wise. Fifteen doctors to seventy lawyers is not at all physically reassuring.

Some of the inhabitants of Gettysburg are opposed to the extension of the national park there, as they think the removal of the farmers will injure the trade of the place. The town has a population of only 3,200 and it might be a good idea to buy it as an accidental feature of the scene of the great battle.

The 119th anniversary of the declaration of independence is a thing of the past, and although not observed in Brainerd by any grand celebration the day was spent by the citizens in a manner entirely fitting for the occasion. Those who did not attend the different localities near the city where the eagle was billed to scream, went to the lakes. Gilbert Lake drew quite a crowd and a very pleasant time was enjoyed. The games at Athletic Park were well patronized also, and the electric line was taxed to its utmost to take care of the crowds of people.

The usual number of crooks followed the circus which visited Brainerd on Wednesday and as a result several parties are poorer in purse than before. A woman named Moffatt claimed that her pocket was picked and $20 extracted, but the police seem to think that no such amount of money was lost. Two men from the western part of the county, whose names we could not learn, were short-changed for $30 or $40 each, but the greater part of the money was refunded to them on complaint to the manager of the show. It is estimated that there were 2400 people in attendance at the afternoon performance and 600 in the evening.

A Musical Treat.
Mrs. J. C. Atherton has in training fifty girl voices in preparation for the delightful and popular operetta "Lalla," which will be presented to the public the latter part of July at the Sleeper opera house. As the special parts and choruses are composed of Brainerd's best talent, it will be without doubt a great success. As the prices will be within reach of all, and no one should miss this opportunity.

The Tournament.
In the last issue of this paper it was impossible to give the complete score of the Gun Club tournament as it did not close until Friday evening, and a condensed table is published below which gives the entire list. Through the courtesy of Secretary Mantor we are able to give the correct names of the visiting shooters, their address and the names they used at the trap, together with the kind of gun handled by each, as follows:

Married.

The wedding of Arthur W. Wheatley to Miss Eleanor Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Edwards, occurred at the Episcopal church on Monday afternoon, Rev. E. S. W. Pentreath officiating. The maid of honor and groomsmen were Miss Mamie Wheatley and William Edwards, the bride being attended by Misses Cora Bartle, Irene Lowey, Violet Hagadorn and Daisy Millsap as bridesmaids. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers, and was filled with friends who had assembled to witness the ceremony. After the ceremony the party went to the residence of the bride's parents, where a wedding supper was served. Many handsome and costly wedding gifts were tendered the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Wheatley left on the evening train for a trip to England, and on their return will reside in Staples.

Michael Couscan and Miss Mattie Peterson were united in marriage at St. Matthias on Tuesday, July 2nd, Rev. Fr. Lynch, of this city, performing the ceremony. The wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Holland, and was witnessed by a large number of friends of the contracting parties. A dance and sumptuous supper followed the ceremony.

Mr. Marius Gunderson and Miss Frida Johnson, of Aitkin, were married at the Swedish Lutheran parsonage by Rev. F. M. Eckman on Tuesday, July 2nd. Mr. Gunderson is a section foreman on the N. P. road.

John Anderson and Miss Emily Johnson were united in marriage on Tuesday by Rev. F. M. Eckman at the residence of the groom's brother-in-law, Mr. Swenson, on Ninth street north.

A Trip to Leech Lake.
The country to the north of Brainerd which has been opened up by the Brainerd & Northern Minnesota railroad is one full of interest to people in this section of the state, and a trip to Leech Lake by rail can now be accomplished in a forenoon with ease and comfort. The writer visited that section of the country on Monday in company with A. F. Ferris. Leaving Brainerd at 8:20 in the morning on the regular passenger train, of which Ed Laughlin is conductor, we were rapidly carried through the pine forests to Lothrop, which is the headquarters of the company, and the present end of the line, although the steel is laid to the lake, but regular trains do not run there yet. Lothrop is quite a business place but the location is a very undesirable one, being almost in a swamp. While the town is not regularly laid out there are a few streets and business places such as one would find in a frontier town. The company's buildings are large and well constructed, consisting of a large warehouse where the supplies are stored, boarding house, office building, three stall round house and repair shops. W. J. Bain is located there and is village doctor and postmaster. Fred Luken has a branch store there, and Sinter & Cowan run the only licensed saloon in the place. F. C. Mearns, in charge of the company's office at that place, took particular pains to show us the town, and is a very pleasant gentleman to meet.

From Lothrop to the bridge which crosses the south arm of Leech Lake it is six miles, and in company with J. O'Leary, who has charge of the construction work, we took passage in a box car to that point. The bridge across the arm is 2000 feet long, and was constructed last winter, and in order to reach the opposite shore one has to walk a 16 inch plank, at an elevation of 20 feet above the lake. The contractors are at work on the grade which is nearly ready for the ties three miles beyond the bridge, and the road follows the shore of the lake about seven miles.

Frost & Shaw run a steamboat for freight and passenger business across the arm, and are doing a good business. Mr. Frost has taken a piece of land some five miles up the lake from the bridge, and has one of the prettiest locations on that beautiful sheet of water. He had arranged a dancing pavilion and a dance was to be given there yesterday, to celebrate the Fourth in fitting style, with a moonlight excursion on the lake. The Indians at the agency were also arranging for a grand celebration with canoe races and athletic sports, an account of which will be given in these columns next week by a special correspondent.

Another large steamboat is in course of construction by J. O'Leary, of Eagle Bend, which will be used to haul logs across the lake to a saw mill which the gentleman will erect.

A Summer Outing.
Where to go for a summer outing of any extent is no longer (if it ever was) a Hobson's Choice. The railroad companies offer excursion rates and routes by the hundred. The Seaside, the White Mountains, the St. Lawrence, the Great Lakes, the Colorado mountain resorts, Yellowstone Park, and far-off Alaska, are all to choose from, time and money being supposed no object. The demands of business and the size of the pocket-book, however, make it impossible for thousands to do more than pass a few days vacation in a quiet way at moderate expense. To such, we might suggest, if they have not taken it, a journey along the Upper Mississippi. There is no river scenery in our country that really surpasses it in either variety or beauty. From the rapids at Rock Island to the placid expanse of Lake Pepin, is an even shifting panorama of beauty, while there are many towns and villages enroute where a stop of a day can be made with a great deal of pleasure. If this trip is to be made in a short time, the best way is to take the trains of the Burlington Route, which run for three hundred miles close along the east bank, affording a thousand charming views. An agreeable inexpensive outing may be had in this way for a trifle of cost. Apply to any of the Burlington ticket agents for maps, time tables and rates, or for more detailed information, address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Crow Wing, Minn., July 5th.

The Knights Templar convolve will be held at Boston, Mass., during next August, and it will be of interest to Sir Knights and their friends to note that arrangements have already been successfully accomplished by the Nickel Plate road, providing for the sale of excursion tickets over direct lines going and returning or by circuits routes, viz: going one line and returning another. By so doing many of the following notable resorts may be visited without additional expense. Chautauque Lake, Niagara Falls, Thousand Islands, Rapids of the St. Lawrence, Saratoga, Palisades of the Hudson and the Hoosac Tunnel. The above arrangements will no doubt make the low rate excursion tickets offered by the Nickel Plate Road very popular. Call on or address J. Y. Calahan, Gen'l Agent, 111 Adams street, Chicago.

State Teachers' Summer School.
Will be held under the direction of the county superintendents of Aitkin, Crow Wing and Morrison counties, at the Central School Building, Little Falls, beginning July 8th, 1895, and continuing four weeks.

Instructors, F. V. Hubbard, conductor, and H. W. Brewster and W. E. Johnson, assistants.

Summer schools have become very popular, and justly so. In four weeks, under the instruction of efficient educators, a great deal can be accomplished. They are held at a time when teachers have vacation, thereby giving all an opportunity to attend. Summer schools are becoming more and more proficient, and, in nearly all the states, they are now permanently established institutions.

The grade of the work will not be all elementary, (except in methods), and teachers should not remain away if they have attended a normal school or college; they will find that they can work profitably whatever subjects they wish to pursue.

Teachers should bring all their text-books with them; also paper and lead pencils.

Teachers and those intending to teach are required to attend.

Boarding can be obtained at reasonable rates, both at hotels and with private families.
